When retrenchments were effected on Mr Rice's retirement it seems to have been thought that there was little more to be done in Archaeology & Epigraphy in the State, but the experience of the past 2nr 3 years seems to show that that opinion was not quite accurate & that there is much work still to be done -

In Government Order No.G.6278-82/G.M.67-06-25 dated 10th April 1907 passing orders on the subject of retrenchments in the Archaeological Department after the retirement of Mr. B.L. Rice, the establishment allowed for the Archaeological Office was fixed at one pandit, 2 clerks and 5 menials at a cost of Rs.176 a month, and it was also stated that until the architectural portfolio which was under preparation was completed (which it was expected would be within one year at the most) the services of the photographer and draughtsman on Rs.95 and ~~of~~ of the Assistant Photographer on Rs.10 would be retained. Further it was directed that another draughtsman on Rs.60 who had been obtained from the P.W. Department in connection with the architectural portfolio should be reverted to the P.W. Department.

2. As a result of the representations made by Mr. R. Narasimhachar from time to time the services of the three officials last named have been retained in the Archaeological Office. The latest period of extension that has been sanctioned expires on the 30th June 191[illegible].

3. Mr. Narasimhachar has now repeated the request which had been made by him already, that the Photographer and draughtsman on Rs.95 and the Assistant Photographer on Rs.10 may be retained permanently and he also asks that the services of the Draughtsman on Rs.60 (originally obtained from the P.W.D.) may be retained for a further period of 4 years.

4. The architectural portfolio has not yet been completed, and at the rate at which the work has progressed in the past, it is safe to say that its completion will take several years. There is almost endless work to do in the Department and I am of opinion that the Photographer and draughtsman on Rs.95 and the Assistant Photographer on Rs.10 may be kept on permanently. For one thing, this would keep the men free from anxiety and suspense. The proposal to keep on the other draughtsman on Rs.60 for 4 years more may also be sanctioned. These proposals have also been agreed to by both the Councillors.
